The Saltire Society Publisher of the Year Award 2018

Established in 2013, the Saltire Society Publisher of the Year Award is dedicated to encouraging and supporting Scottish publishers. The Award aims to recognise and promote the work of Scottish publishers as an important element in the ecology of Scottish literature.

The winner of the Award will receive £1000 to assist their business in its further development. The judges will also have the option to award a commendation.

What are we looking for in the winner?

The award will be given to the company who has the most exciting, progressive and developmental story to tell. The purpose of the award is to celebrate and support the continued achievements and ambitions of Scottish publishers.

The winning applicant will be distinguished by their strong performance and possess at least three of the following characteristics:

- Innovation and boldness
- Strong relationships with authors and readers
- Successful and effective business strategy
- Successfully entering new markets
- High quality production values

Judging Panel

We have brought together a panel comprised of experts from across the publishing field:
